Staff: Post the guidelines (including the water garden trade section) for an electronic vote by the GLP

ExCom: If approved, forward guidelines as a recommendation to Susan Mangin for consideration by the reinstated Recreational Activities Committee at the ANS Task Force level

- Great Lakes Aquatic Invasions Booklet (GLAI): Follow-up on interest to update and publish a new edition of the booklet; the GLC is looking for entities who may be interested in contributing funds to support this effort

- GLP Members: Contact GLC staff with interest in providing support for producing a new edition of GLAI and/or to provide input on topics to be covered in the booklet
- GLP Staff: Scope out a proposal for a new edition of the GLAI booklet (with a workplan and budget). During this process, consideration should be given to using the booklet, in part, to market/promote the AIS project accomplishments funded under the GLRI. Staff and/or I/E committee members should initiate circulation of the proposal to potential funders

  - Research Coordination Committee: Conduct a series of conference calls on coordinating proposal efforts funded under the GLRI on a variety of topical areas
  - GLP Committees: Task each of the committees with different components of an early detection and monitoring regime (e.g., I/E Committee would take on citizen-based monitoring for larger organism)
  - GLP Recommendation: Go on record in requesting more resources for the states to expand their efforts for AIS monitoring in the Great Lakes region. To provide a basis for this request, an inventory should be conducted to identify established AIS monitoring efforts in the Great Lakes and the gaps and unmet.
