
Figures

- Figure 1-1 Project infrastructure schematic
- Figure 2-1 Volumes and areas of the Great Lakes
- Figure 2-2 Rates of isostatic rebound
- Figure 2-3 Flows into and out of the Great Lakes
- Figure 2-4 Inflows to the Great Lakes
- Figure 2-5 Average groundwater and surface-runoff components of streamflow in the U.S. portion of the Great Lakes basin
- Figure 2-6 Outflows from the Great Lakes
- Figure 2-7 Interbasin diversions
- Figure 2-8 Intrabasin diversions
- Figure 2-9 Lake Superior water level, 1860-1999
- Figure 2-10 Long-term average monthly evaporation from Lake Superior
- Figure 2-11 Lake Michigan diversion at Chicago, Illinois, 1970 to 1990
- Figure 2-12 Potential uncertainties in flows to and from lakes Michigan-Huron
- Figure 2-13 Flows into and from the Great Lakes
- Figure 3-1 Timeline of Great Lakes water use data collection and reporting
- Figure 3-2 1998 water withdrawals by category
- Figure 3-3 1998 water withdrawals by jurisdiction
- Figure 3-4 1998 consumptive water use by category
- Figure 5-1 Proposed framework for ecological assessment of water withdrawals
- Figure 5-2 Interconnectivity of five categories of models
- Figure 6-1 Relationship between compensatory restoration and interim lost value
- Figure 8-1 Conceptualization of nested watersheds

Tables

Table 3-1	Fulfilling Data Collection Commitments Under the Great Lakes Charter: Self Assessment by Jurisdiction
Table 3-2	Summary of Water Use Reporting Programs by Jurisdiction
Table 3-3	Summary Characterization of Water Use, Permitting, Registration and Reporting Programs
Table 3-4	Consumptive Use Coefficients by Water Use Category
Table 3-5	Measured Processes for Consumptive Use Reporting by Facilities
Table 3-6	Jurisdiction Demand Forecasting Efforts
Table 3-7	Software Needs and Recommendations
Table 4-1	State/Provincial Water Conservation Programs and Drought Contingency Plans
Table 4-2	15 Suggested Water Conservation Measures
Table 5-1	Hydrodynamic/Hydraulic Models
Table 5-2	Hydrologic/Watershed Models
Table 5-3	Surface Water Quality Models
Table 5-4	Groundwater Models
Table 5-5	Ecological Effects Models